Dear David,

Well done for completing the HPC course and assignment - it was a very challenging task.

I am now able to give your final mark for the coursework which is:

91% (you were the second highest in the class - well done!)

You should consider this grade as being comparable to grades given out for essays and project work.

Sorry for the delay in returning the marks to you, it took me much longer than anticipated to do this marking.

I would be happy to give more detailed feedback upon request.

Thank you for your involvement in the course - I enjoyed working with you all during the HPC week.

Best wishes,

James
